Fiscal Information

The total operating budget for the Naval Postgraduate School during fiscal year 2012 was $312.8 million. Funding for NPS comes from two primary sources: direct funds are provided by the Department of the Navy for the university’s core teaching missions. Reimbursable funds are provided by a variety of sponsors for the implementation of research or other unique sponsored programs.

Research and Sponsored Programs at the Naval Postgraduate School

Sponsored programs at the Naval Postgraduate School are an integral component of the graduate education experience. The primary purpose of sponsored programs at NPS is to provide students with an opportunity to conduct research in education, national security, and economic and international problems. In addition to research, sponsored funding also supports educational programs as well as services.
