We expect that participants have experience as a senior supervisor. Experienced supervisors in other ranks may attend with permission from the registrar and/or the instructors. If you don’t meet these requirements, send us a request and if our requirements change, we can notify you.

What is the minimum enrollment?
Minimum enrollment is 19 participants. If the program does not meet minimum enrollment, NPS will notify applicants 9 December 2019 and return the tuition in full, but is not responsible for travel, accommodation, or other expenses incurred by the participant.

Are non-Navy employees eligible to attend the program?
Due to the number of interested Naval personnel, we currently are not accepting non-Naval employees for this program.

Why is there a max limit of three seats per command?
Due to the current high demand and limited class size (26 seats), we are allowing commands to “reserve” up to three seats to ensure the program is available to a larger Navy and Marine population.

What is the waitlist policy?
The maximum number of participants is 26. After 26 people register for the program, we will begin a waitlist. If registrants drop out or do not pay their tuition by December 6, we will begin contacting people on the waitlist.
